

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to a delivery unit comprising a vertical ejector. A deviation, which is manufactured in one piece with the cover of a fuel pump, is located above the outlet of a mixing tube. The delivery unit is thus extremely cost-effective to produce.